

"We live, and work, on land which has long served as a site of meeting and exchange amongst our Indigenous peoples. We acknowledge and thank the diverse Indigenous peoples whose presence marks this territory upon which peoples of the world now gather."